Event name

Difference between Chinese and Western bread

Activity Goals

- Know the names of Chinese bread
- Learn how to differentiate between Chinese and Western breads
- Explore different bread shapes and colors

Activity Introduction

As part of a project activity, the children engaged in a series of exploratory tasks related to bread. They discovered and shared information about various types of bread, including Chinese lotus seed paste buns, vegetable and meat buns, steamed buns, Western-style croissants, French buns, and more. To further their understanding, the children visited a bakery where they played "Many Types of Bread" to learn how to differentiate between Chinese and Western bread.
